Examples of most helpful advice:

- How to properly network on LinkedIn; proper wording for reaching out to folks
- How to format my resume
- How to find/reach out to HGSE alums
- How to bridge interest between the employer and me in order to secure a better offer
- Knowing about charter school companies
- It was so helpful to receive detailed feedback and the next steps in terms of learning more about the target program. Thank you so much!
- Looking for grant funded positions
  - Look for a job posting I am interested in or would consider for my career, work backwards and think of what skills I need to fill the gap, focus my internship on that!
- Research day to day responsibilities of jobs you are interested and network, don't just look at sectors.
- Reaching out to professors or individuals to get further advice
- Prepare ahead of time
  - Plan As and Bs and how to consider each one.
  - Negotiating within 10% of offer. Do not take offer on the spot. Best to negotiate via in-person or phone.
- Focus on management roles and take at least one education technology class that involves projects. I can focus my project on area of interest to me such as executive functioning, autism, etc.
- Evaluating gaps and goals in consideration of the "buckets" to be filled during my two terms at HGSE.
- Contacting my program director about an opportunity to have an exception made within my major that I didn’t know about before!
- Contacting a company to ask for an internship rather than waiting for them to post one.
- Concrete examples of where my Statement of Purpose was awkward/ not working.
- Communication during the interviews
- Cap Exempt H1B Sponsorship
  - Call Class Measures ASAP to confirm my Initial Certification qualifications and outstanding components that are needed so that I can adequately prepare this year while at HGSE.
- California requires 5 years of teaching experience in order to go into administration so since I have 4 years, Texas is a better alternative out of the two states. I should also get my licensure just in case I decide to stay in Massachusetts.
